My kids loved the original Wise & Foolish Builders animation. Do you have others like it?

Sure do! You might like:

- The parable of The Wise and Foolish Builders told in LEGO style!
- The animated video with lesson guide and PowerPoint exploring the Ten Times (Jesus Appears) after his resurrection.
- A song of worship, told in Minecraft style. walking through the life of David - A Heart After God.

Wordless Bible Stories

I've used the LEGO-Style 'Wise and Foolish Builders' video in a wide range of contexts - it's a total win for both adults and children! Initially, it's the playfulness that clicks, but the message helps people to grasp something lasting about following Jesus.

Refugee Like Me

DANIEL, JESUS
and NAAMAN'S
SERVANT GIRL

Розповів Я вам про все для того, щоб ви мали
через Мене мир та спокій. У цьому світі ви страждатимете, та будьте мужні! Я переміг світ!
— Від Іоана 16:33

Звертаюсь я до Господа, в Якого вірю:
«Ти — прихисток, моя фортеця!»
— Псалми 91:2

We're working with kids who have refugee experiences. Do you have any trauma-informed resources?

Check out A Refugee Like Me, a 3-session program of sports, games and Bible devotions, created by people who serve refugees and have been refugees. It contains Bible stories that share the experience of displacement, leader guidance regarding trauma, and sessions that build relational connections and emotional regulation skills.

What could work for me?

- Sessions are fun and active.
- Careful to avoid triggering activities.
- Give Biblical hope and practical guidance for the here-and-now.

We have neurodivergent children in our program. How do we navigate it?

Introducing This is Ned - a resource designed specifically for church leaders and volunteers. Using the idea of a garden, it helps us move towards the things that we can change in the environment. Then, we can provide safety and belonging for more kinds of young people.

Everyone Belongs Library

Why check it out?

- Simplifies neurodiversity for busy volunteers.
- Shifts focus to the "social model" of support.
- Grounded in the truth that we are all made in God's image, we are one Body with many unique parts.

Let's get better at meeting every child where they're at!

This is an incredible resource. I encourage you to understand how to use AI for Gospel ministry.

Trainee 2025

I find AI intriguing. Can I use it in ministry?

If you're a leader: download Top 10 Practical AI Ideas for Pastors & Leaders. This handbook explores ten core ways to use AI as a supportive tool for sermon prep, Bible study, translation, program design, music, video, graphics, and more, while keeping Scripture central and safeguarding theology.

Handbook

If you're in children's ministry: check out Using AI in a Local Church produced in June 2025. The Training Video and Booklet will equip you to use AI tools with wisdom and Biblical integrity.

Why AI?

- Harness AI for Kingdom impact while guarding against its risks.
- Saves you hours of research.
- Practical tips, in-depth content and available in many languages.

I'm looking for inspirational, disciple-making stories...

Introducing Minori: a documentary short of a young man using his love of skateboarding to share the Gospel with his neighbourhood in Japan, and the relationship he built with a non-believing family.

What works?

- Contemporary documentary style.
- An example of discipling through everyday life and passions.
- Multi-use, short format that works in talks, youth groups, on phones or in training.

Youth Leader

I'd love to develop my young leadership team. Thoughts?

Introducing Development Courses for Young Leaders

Designed for developing leaders in sports ministry, but transferable to other contexts, these modules empower those working with children and teens to lead with confidence, consistency, and a heart for service.

Transforming Sport

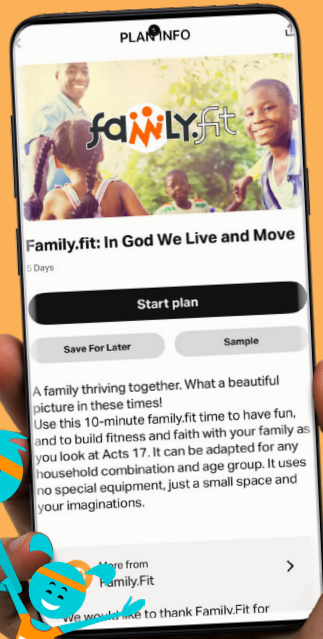

Why check it out?

- Multiply your impact by making disciples who make disciples.
- Move beyond running programs to intentional mentoring.
- Develop Godly character and effective habits and anchor your leaders in Scripture.

Our family loves fitness and intentional faith conversations.

You could test-run family.fit on YouVersion. This practical, sports-based resource is designed to unite households through physical activity and faith. You will find a 6-day sample program based on Nehemiah and more programs can be found online at <https://family.fit>.

- It's easy!
- Use inside or outside, for families of all shapes, sizes and fitness levels.
- No special equipment, only a fun attitude is needed.

Mission isn't only overseas, it's across the road and over the table.

Families are a great place to build faith. Do you have any tools for that?

Dive into Families on Mission to see what is emerging. This collaborative hub for resources contains practical tools, stories and training materials to equip households to adopt a lifestyle of mission. In the experiences of daily life, with unique passions and limitations, in different stages and seasons, families can share the hope and good news of Jesus within their own household and with people everywhere.

ALLY & MATES

a faith-filled
FUN podcast
for 4 - 8yr olds

We have been fans since early-on and my kids are absolutely addicted. The bites of information are short and interesting, and my boys really retain what they have heard. We wait eagerly for the next episode each week.

Apple Podcast Review

Can I have fun and nurture faith with my 4-8yr olds?

Introducing Ally & Mates, a podcast designed for 4-8year-olds and those who care for them. Light and bright, each 10-minute episode helps you to explore this amazing world and the Creator of it all.

Why check it out?

- Great for listening in the car, home-time or playgroups.
- Light-hearted segments touch on interesting topics. Kids can join in by sending their best joke, brain buster or question.
- Grounded in the simple truth that God made everything and He's interested in every part of our lives.

I'm young, creative and I love Jesus. How can I connect with people like me?

Introducing Project OB, an emerging community of believers using their creative gifts to glorify God. OB stands for Oholiab and Bezalel (Exodus 31), the first people described as filled with the Holy Spirit to do creative works.

Why check it out?

- Be part of a playful, friendly community and help to shape something new.
- Encourage each other through local small-groups, large quarterly events and digital captures of local artists' stories.
- Stay grounded, glorify God, and love others as you create.

Regardless of skills or style, all are welcome! Follow @creative.ob

I've seen so many tools and examples in this book that I'm wondering, can I really do this?

Yes you can! Introducing the In His Hands podcast mini-series to inspire you. If you're thinking about working in ministry, particularly in a creative capacity, or investing more in your current ministry role, this podcast is for you.

Focusing on Mal Heap, a puppeteer and creative jack of all trades, the series explores how he has used the gifts God has given him in a multitude of ways. Each of the five episodes focuses not just on Mal's unique gifting, but on different Biblical principles you can apply today.

Why check it out?

- Real stories of creative ministry in action.
- Practical, Biblical takeaways.
- Be encouraged to step into what God's given you.
